

KISSS Irrigation Technology

Irrigation & Water Technologies warrants its KISSS subsurface irrigation products for 10 years against fault caused during the IWT manufacturing process. This warranty is for material replacement only.

This warranty does not apply:

- Where inappropriate equipment is used in the installation process or where KISSS is not installed in accordance with IWT's specifications and installation instructions
- Where KISSS is not used in accordance with IWT's instructions
- For damage that results from misuse, negligence, vandalism, alteration, tampering or improper installation, or maintenance of the product
- If irrigation water has not been filtered or treated to the levels specified by IWT for individual application of the product
- Where chemical concentrates are used or applied internally or externally to the product, and cause harm to the product or its components
- Where operational water pressures are greater than those specified by IWT for the product
- Where insects, rodents or other animals cause damage or plugging
- Where lightning or electrical power surges cause damage or failure
- Where extreme high or low temperatures, including freezing, cause damage
- If the KISSS product is used on or above the ground surface

Where a defect in a KISSS product is identified during the applicable warranty period, IWT will repair or replace the product or a defective part, at its sole discretion.

Drip pipe used inside KISSS is covered by the relevant drip pipe manufacturer's warranty. This can be supplied upon request.
